Linda E. Amuso Named President of Aon Consulting's Radford Surveys + Consulting

San Jose, Calif. – July 1, 2008 – Aon Consulting's Radford Surveys + Consulting, a leading provider of market compensation intelligence and consulting to the high technology and life sciences industries, has announced the appointment of Linda E. Amuso to president.

"Since joining Radford in 2005 as senior vice president, Linda has been instrumental in building Radford's consulting business and expanding Radford's services globally," said Brian Dunn, CEO of Aon Global Compensation Consulting. "Linda truly is an industry leader and trailblazer, and provides exceptional value to clients in addressing complex issues facing them globally."

For 20 years, Linda has advised senior management and Boards of Directors on developing and implementing executive and broad-based pay strategies that effectively link performance to short-term and long-term strategies, considering the ever changing shareholder and governance environment and the talent challenges in the high technology and life sciences sectors.

In 1993, Amuso co-founded iQuantic, Inc., (acquired by Buck Consultants in 2001), and was a key contributor in building the organization into a national compensation consulting business. She also led the expansion of iQuantic's business into the life sciences industry, offering consulting and survey support.

Amuso earned a Bachelor of Science from Ithaca College and a Master of Arts in Industrial and Labor Relations from Cornell University. She speaks on compensation and corporate governance issues frequently, and has been quoted in various national business publications. Amuso is based in San Francisco.
